Biographical/Historical note

Reports published by Institutional Research began as a student profile that offered basic information about enrollment statistics. They were published irregularly until 1983-84 when the publication expanded and became the University Fact Book. Beginning in 2007, the Fact Book became an exclusively online publication. Enrollment Management took over the publication in 2007; the content changed to provide summary data about enrollment, and the name became Enrollment Highlights.

Scope and Contents note

Reports provide statistical data about the university, including enrollment by college, gender, and ethnicity. Some years also include data about faculty, staff, finance, and facilities. Detailed statistical data is available online through Institutional Research.
