Charley and Henry had just entered the Southwest Texas Normal and settled down to begin their work in earnest. How should each take hold on the surrounding opportunities? Henry had been reared in a family that had cared little for strict observance of the Sabbath. Although he went to Sunday school, it was because every one else had been going, it gave him a kind of a social prestige that he otherwise would not have had. Charley was the opposite. He was sincerely in sympathy with Sunday schools and all associations for the betterment of humanity.

It was hardly ten o'clock when the two boys had finished their work and were talking of the opportunities and social conveniences that perhaps might come to them during the year.

"Charley," said Henry, "did you attend Sunday school last year while you were teaching school at Providence?"

"Yes," replied the other, "I attended Sunday school regularly and enjoyed it very much. I taught one of the classes and it afforded me more pleasure than anything that I have ever done. I certainly do like Sunday's school work."

I shouldn't think it would be so tiresome teaching in a literary school all the week and then in Sunday school on Sunday—you may rest assured that I will not, if I teach next year, bind myself to any Sunday school. I believe a teacher should spend Sunday resting."

It you mean by that, that a teacher should stay at home or somewhere else rather than go to Sunday school, I do not agree with you there. A teacher has as much time to attend Sunday school as any one.

Perhaps so, but a teacher is transient. What good could he do in a year?"

"That often makes him transient. If he is lazy on Sunday, he will be lazy through the week. Who wants a lazy teacher?"

"I suppose then," replied Henry, "that you will join the Sunday school here?"

"Certainly. I intend to join the class tomorrow and attend regularly. I am glad to have such an opportunity."

"I think I shall go tomorrow, but will not join the class. I want to be free while here."

"So do I, but I feel free there. The Y. M. C. A. meet Thursday—let's join. There is no association that has a better influence upon its members."

"That may be true, but I am not thinking of entering the ministry or making a foreign mission of myself. All I want is a certificate. When I get through, I shall then have time for such stuff."

"Did you attend Sunday school at home?"

"Yes, but I had to go to have a standing in the community."

"That proves to me, then, that there is some good in it. Does it not to you?"

"Well, I believe you have me there," replied Henry. "But many of our good citizens do not attend."

"Very truly, but which class would you wish to select your companions from?"

"Charlie, I must say I have no answer for that. I should certainly select them from the Sunday school going people. You have fully convinced me of my wrong, and now I promise you that we shall both attend the Sunday school and Y. M. C. A. together. I believe every one should attend, whether for a short time or a long time."

At this the boys retired for the night glad that they were both now on the right side.

Moral: let every Normal boy attend Sunday school and the Y. M. C. A. throughout the year. It certainly can't do you harm. It can, without doubt, do you much good.

NORMAL MAKES GOOD. RECORD IN MEET.

Last Friday the Academy High School and Normal tried out for the silver loving cup offered by the fair association for the greatest number of points made by any one of these schools.

The Normal made decidedly the best record of the three, coming out with 28 points to High School's 21. The Normal was represented by Coers as winner of the 100 yard dash and the 220 yard run. He also won second in high jump. Williams won first high and broad jump. Pope and Jones won third and fourth respectively in the half mile run, Coers of High School swimming first and the Academy second Coers of High School also won second in the broad jump.

From this it can be seen that Normal has some real stuff for a track meet. Our boys have been highly complimented on their part in the meet and we hope that they may be able to draw at her honors to the Normal as well as themselves. Who knows but what we can win in the state meet if we will enter.

We are sure that we are expressing sentiment of the student body as well as the faculty when we say we are proud of all our entires.

CORONAL-6 NORMAL-0.

The first foot-ball game in the series, for the loving cup offered by Geo. M. Edge, was played on the Coronale field last Saturday afternoon with the above result. The game was closely contested, in fact so closely that had time been called thirty seconds sooner the result would have been a no-score game.

Both teams were weak on offense, with the advantage in Coronale's favor. They used the forward pass frequently and successful, but always for short gains. The Normal boys could not break up the passes but they always succeeded indowning the runner as soon as he got the ball. Coronale gained considerable grounds for a short time in the third quarter on off-tackle bids.

Captain Gambrell did the best work for Normal in advancing the ball. Coers, Fitzgerald and Jones did exceptionally well on defense.

The touchdown made by Coronal came as the result of a blockade punt. The ball was sent over the line on a buck through guard. Several times during the game the Normal team held for downs when right on their own good line and twice it was necessary to punt from behind the line.

Coronal outplayed our boys Saturday and we have no kick to make. With more practice, and the added experience gained Saturday, we expect a different result in our future games.

The Every Days.
The every day society has had two regular meetings. At the first we organized and initiated our new members.
At the last meeting on Saturday, Oct. 7, we began the study of our subject, the Great Women of the ‘Day, and made’ plans for the ‘Hill and River’ outing.
Although we are only Every Day girls, we can get inspiration and enjoyment from the study of our famous sisters.
Miss White, our ‘Step mother’ is very good to help the ‘orphans’ and we hope to accomplish what she expects of us.

Victrola Concert.
Through the kindness of Miss Butler and Mr. Miller, on Saturday evening the students and friends of the normal were given an opportunity of hearing such music as few of them, perhaps, had ever heard. A large audience was present, including quite a number of students of S.M.B.A. All seemed to enjoy the beautiful selections from Gadski, Caruco, Schumann, Heinck, and other well-known operatic stars.
The faces of these artists shown on the screen added to the interest in the music.

Idyllic.
The Idyllic Society held its regular meeting Saturday, Oct. 7, in Room Twelve. The officers for the ensuing year were installed by Miss White. After the oath of office had been administered, the president took the chair and a very interesting program was rendered.
Mr. Nelson gave a very entertaining and instructive talk on, How to Begin Flower Farming.
Since we are going to study flowers this year, girls, let us love and cultivate these flowers, with enthusiasm, and a hoe, and make our society worthy of its name.

Slavonia.

This Slavonia is a society organized by the Bohemian students of Southwest Texas Normal. Its chief aim is to get more Bohemian young men and girls into the higher institutions of learning and to cultivate the mother tongue.

The officers for the first term are: President, Miss Albina Priedl; Vice-president, Mr. J. V. Kocurek; Secretary, Miss Francis Drorak; Treasurer, Miss Martha Bartak; Program committee, J. V. Kocurek, Elia Lesikan, Vlasta Jurcak, and Jos Mieg.

Harras Blair Society.

The Harris Blair Society met for the first time this session on Sept. 15 in its old hall, room 12.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mr. A. E. Zellers, who in a short address gave a hearty welcome to both old and new members of the society.

Prof. H. A. Nelson, an old member of the H. B. and a much loved teacher of the Normal, was with us and took down the house with his talk on General Lee. It is needless to say that he is welcome at all times. He was followed by Mr. O. B. King with an outline of the year work.

The society then went into business session at which the flo'owing officers were elected to fill vacancies: O. B. King, Vice-president; Geo. Turner, Assistant Secretary; S. D. Jones, Critic, B. B. Ivice, chaplain. Mr. A. E. Zellers, President; Mr. Hines, Secretary; Mr. Carroll, Treasurer; Mr. Zimmerman, Sergeant-at-arms; M. Pope and M. Montgomery, tellers: are the officers over from last year.

The society made a good showing for the first day bringing in 39 members in all. This is indicative of a good society of course and will greatly encourage all of the members to work. We bid fair to have the best society that we have ever had.

At our second session Mr. Birdwell gave us a splendid talk. His talks are always appreciated whenever he speaks to a crowd of young men. He is welcome back at any time.

We are glad to report the good success of one of our old Denton-San Marcos speakers-Mr. W. V. Harrison. He is teaching at Odesa as principal over nine other teachers. The school reports, has an attendance of some 350.

Mr. Brooks Henderson, our 1909-10 and 1910-11 base ball giant, was among us last week. He is attending the University this session. Our best wishes go with him.

Mr. J. L. Hall 1909-10, passed through during the latter part of week before last on his way to Vanderbilt University Medical School. His cousin, N. R. Jackson, who attended here the past summer, was with him. Miss Stansell or the Misses Cavitt might give more particulars.

Miss Allred to Freshman at the office window—"and what do you want? Freshman, "stifcat."

Normal Girl:—"Mr. Jones are you married?"

Mr. Jones:—Sure not, why do you ask?

Normal Girl:—"Because the girls at the house have been teasing me about talking to a married man.

Mr. Nelson.—Mr. Maise which side of a cow's horn is her ear?

Mr. Maise.—"Ever. I don't know, but I believe it is in front.

Mr. Nelson.—Well, Mr. Maise, how does she get up when she is lying down?

Mr. M.—Why, she gets up just like a horse of course, with her front feet first. An animal is an animal wherever you find it.

Mr. Nelson.—Well, Mr. Maise, I will ask you this question: On which side do we milk a cow?

Mr. M.—Thoughtfully, on the under side.

The Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. organized with about fourteen members. We are glad to note however that the enrollment has increased to something like forty.

The work so far has been very interesting. We have undertaken a course of systematic Bible study, the plan of which I shall not explain; but when I tell you that this course is conducted by Prof. A. W. Birdwell in his own interesting and logical way, it should be enough to interest every young man in the Normal. Does it mean anything to you? Come and join us; it will do you good.
