BASE BALL SEASON OPENS WITH DOUBLE-HEADER

Academy vs. Town 3 to 0—Normal vs. Coronal 3 to 0.

Two fast and snappy base ball games were played on the Academy field last Thursday, the 22 of February. These games opened the series which are to be played between the four teams of San Marcos.

The first game was played between Town and Academy, and was fast and snappy. Town held Academy 0 to 9 until the seventh inning. Then Academy, armed with "old time luck," ran three scores, the game ended 3 to 0 in favor of Academy.

Then came the important game of the day, Normal vs. Coronal, which opened with Normal in bats. The first three innings were three up and three down; but the fourth opened with Soylars at the bat. He was walked to first, then stole second and third, to be brought in by Perkins. In the last half of the fifth Rex Williams got a single, stole to second, then went to third on a single by Captain Shelton, and stole home on an overthrow. Shelton was also able to reach home, making the score 3 to 0.

In the sixth Wottell for Coronal got a single bagger and was called out because of his failing to touch second. No more scores were made, and the game ended 3 to 0 in favor of Normal.

The line up:

Umpire: Wilton Woods; sub:statutes: Normal, Thomas for Williams; Coronal, Clark for Ernst.

The "Pedagogue" of 1917.

Ever since the founding of the Southwest Texas Normal it has been customary for its students to publish an annual. There is no reason for not publishing an annual, and every reason for doing so. The "Pedagogue" is the best representative of our school life that we have; it portrays better than anything else the greatness and beauty of our beloved institution. The "Pedagogue" is all the more important because it is a good representation of our social, literary, religious, and athletic life, and other student activities. It pictures our happiest days, and many people can see the beauties and pleasures in our midst by its wide distribution. Where is there a better reflection of student life than in the "Pedagogue"? Where is there a greater reflection of our environment and achievements? Is there anything more effective to awaken fond recollections of our Alma Mater in later years than by turning its pages and again looking over the scenes of our student life?

Every year the "Pedagogue" has been already so generously endowed. Now, how will the annual of 1917 be in this respect? It depends entirely upon the support of the students. It is within the power of the students to make this year's annual a success. Our school has progressed wonderfully, and the student body is larger than ever before; so why should we not rally and also make the "Pedagogue" of 1917 the best annual this school can possibly put forth?

We are all loyal to our school. Is it possible to manifest this loyalty in a better way than by lending our support to one of its most worthy representatives—the "Pedagogue"?

Many students have not yet subscribed. These students are urged to lose no time in aligning themselves with those who have already so generously given their support. You will find subscription blanks at the Normal Exchange. Sign your blank and leave it at the Exchange.

A New Venture for Normal

A joint meeting of Harris Blair and Chautauqua Literary Societies was held Tuesday at noon. G. H. Reagon, president of Harris Blair called the meeting to order with Shelton acting as secretary. Mr. Arnold then stated the purpose of the meeting. He said that the State of Texas had been organized into districts and that he was manager of this district. The purpose of this organization is to conduct an oratorical contest in the different districts and then to have a state meet at which the winner of each district would compete. The district meeting is to be held here this year; and Mr. Arnold wanted to know whether we should have a representative or not. Of course we voted unanimously to have a representative in this meeting. The tryout of the boys of the Normal will be held next Saturday night. There will be a purse offered to the amount of $25 to the winner of the district meet, and one of $50 at the state meet. As Normal has the habit of winning in any kind of a contest let's get busy and not only get the money for a purse, but bring honor to S. W. T. N.

-Chapel Notes-

During the absence of President Evans, who attended the National Educational Association at Kansas City, the students were treated in a rather unusual manner by some of the teachers during chapel periods.

Mr. Woodson used one period to talk about a psychological experiment he had recently made.

Mr. Brown used the greater part of another reading announcement.

Mr. Burkholder talked over time one morning on the subjects of surveys. He has just made an educational survey of the country.

On Friday, Mr. Pritchett got humorous.

On Monday the order was changed somewhat. Mr. Miller had Rev. Neal on hand to relieve him of the devotional part of the exercises.

A Letter.

Otto, Texas, Feb. 29, 1917.
Editor Normal Star,

Have just received and finished reading my copy of the last issue of The Star. In this issue I notice that mention is again made of the home-coming of the Alumni during commencement week. As a member of the 1916 class allow me to express my hearty approval of this measure. I consider it the "Proper Attitude" and The Star Staff as well as other members of the Normal may expect to see me wandering about the campus inhaling once more the sweet fragrance of wisdom and knowledge that has always characterized the Hill upon which stands the institution of professional learning.

I'm proud to learn of the wide selection the Normal boys have made of men to represent them in the Inter-Normal debates. Being personally acquainted with all the chosen speakers and knowing full well their excellent ability as debaters and orators, I feel no hesitancy in saying that W. T. N is sure of another victory, even more glorious than that witnessed last year.

It having been my good fortune to have been a member of Normal's winning team over Denton last year, I feel capable of offering a suggestion to the student body now, when their debaters are working so nobly to bring honor to our Alma Mater. Knowing then the sacrifice these debaters are making in preparing for this contest, let the student body manifest a spirit of appreciation by getting behind their representatives in urging them on, with their soul-inspiring yells and songs, to certain victory. It takes the hearty cooperation and support of every student in the Normal to cause these men to put forth their best efforts. Their denouncing will be a success just to the extent that the students help make it a success. And this success is possible only where all work with a determination to win. If this spirit prevails there is no reason to doubt that victory will belong to S. W. T.

Important.

In the last issue of The Star appeared a list of the names of the merchants who have taken advertising space in the Pedagog. Along with this list was the suggestion that our students were indebted to these subscribers. And they are. But this was no implication that we are not as greatly indebted to those who have been rendering valuable assistance by advertising in our school paper during the entire school year. So let it not be forgotten that those who use the advertising pages of The Star are your friends. When you go shopping don't forget them either.

ship, came forward and expressed themselves as seeking "Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness," and as a token of their loyalty, each group rendered a dance, pledging their "Life, Fortunes, and Sacred Honors" to their new countries; then placed their several flags on the altar beside that of America.

Liberty then addressed the new citizens. Papers were given to Benjamin Franklin and Alexander Hamilton by Thomas Jefferson to be distributed among the new citizens. Then Liberty introduced Woodrow Wilson who spoke to the citizens of America.

The pageant was a complete success.
