The Normal Crosses
Bats With Town

Town 2—Normal 1 Was Result of Fast Game.

On Wednesday afternoon at 4:15, Normal athletic field Normal and Town played their second fast game of the season.

The game opened with Normal "at the stick." Soyers, the first man up, hit the ball to shortstop and was put out at first. Then followed Shelton with a single. He stole second and third. William made a sacrifice hit and Shelton scored.

From the first inning to the eighth Normal held Town in her mighty erin; then Massey of Town scored on an error.

Ivey also scored, making the score two to one in Town's favor. No score were made in the ninth.

Hays pitched good ball throughout the game and was given good support, especially by Shelton who made five assists.

In the ninth inning Sykes substituted for Freshauer.

The line-up:

Normal Town
Hays P Crews
Freshauer C Wilson
Perkins FR Massey
Soyars SB Williams
William TB Lindsey
Shelton SS Delaney
Lyons RF Ivey
Thomas CF Dobbins
Sullivan LF Lindsey

Miss Butler: "Miss Stanfield you may recite the second verse of Alma Mater for us."

Miss Stanfield: "Our feet are laved by pure and limpid waters."

A Fish on being asked to define a simile, could not answer.

"Well," said the teacher. "If you said, "My hours at school are bright as sunshine," what flavor of speech would that be?"

Whereupon the Fish quickly answered, "Irony."

Mr. Woodson and Mr. Miller Leave to Attend School.

Mr. Miller and Mr. Woodson leave this week to attend College during the "spring and summer. Mr. Woodson goes north to Nashville, Tennessee where he will pursue his study of education at the Peabody Teacher's Institute.

Mr. Miller goes to Austin to attend the State University.

Both Mr. Miller and Mr. Woodson will resume their positions on the Normal faculty next fall. They leave with the best wishes of the entire student body who will look forward with pleasure to their return in the fall.

What The Sophomores are Doing in Athletics

When we look over the past achievements of Normal teams this year, we see that they are by no means "on the lag in athletics, and upon closer observation we see that the Soph's stand out preeminently among these athletes. In the football team we have produced two better men, Arnold and Ford. The Sophomore team was champion in the inter-class series.

Coming down to basketball, we find that Lambert, a Sophomore was chosen captain of the team and played "star". Basketball throughout the season.

At the present time the Sophomore class is rapidly producing school heroes in the form of baseball players. They have at the present four men on the first team: Sykes, the "star" catcher Perkins, the "star" first baseman, Lyons the "star" batter and fielder, and Sullivan, the "star" fielder. These are the kind of men who have in their hands the destiny of the championship trophy and surely they will bring it home.

What The Sophomores are Doing for the Pedagogue

The Sophomores realize the value of the Pedagogue and are giving it their support. In proof of this two hundred members of the class have subscribed for it, thereby giving it one of the fundamental requirements of a good annual—financial support.

In this year's Pedagogue will appear the pictures of some two hundred members of the Sophomore class—the class that is noted for its pretty girls and handsome young men.

The poets and prose writers of the class have contributed their masterpieces.

We have yielded for the Pedagogue, we have given it our financial support, we have aided with our literary geniuses, and stand ready to help further when our aid is desired.

Baylor Man Takes Mr. Miller's Place.

The vacancy left by Mr. Miller's departure will be filled by Mr. Baker, a graduate of Baylor University. Mr. Baker comes directly from Homer, La., where he has been teaching in the Homer High School. He has specialized in physics and chemistry and comes well recommended.

Let's all join in giving our new teacher a warm welcome to our school.

Why the Crowd Laughed

A happy couple joined hands at the altar to be united in the bonds of holy matrimony. As the minister solemnly went through the ceremony a little gust of wind came in through the open window and unknown to him turned several pages of his book. At the close of the ceremony the minister lifted his hand over their heads and in loving benediction read:

"Father, forgive them, they know not what they do."

Southwestern 7—Normal 0

Methodists Defeat Pedagogues In Fast Game.

Monday, Normal, for the first time met the Senior College team in a game of base ball. The score was decided in favor of Southwestern, but it is not at all discouraging owing to the fact that the Normal team traveled sixty miles across the country and were on a strange field. Normal out hit her opponents two to one but slept on the bases. Maybe pitched a fine game; the opposing team getting only four hits, but the team failed to back him with men on bases.

Lyons showed that he was as good as the best of them with the stick by getting two hits. Sullivan played his usual steady game in the outfield. "Bonchead" plays were much in evidence in the infield and probably accounted for the majority of Southwestern's score.

Doubtful Praise.

Irving Nixon had become greatly puffed up over the fact that one of his teachers had spoken of him as a model pupil. He bored the boys at the boarding house about it until Robert Shelton took him up to the library and suggested that they look up the definition of the word "model."

Nixon took down the dictionary and read: "Model—a small imitation of the real thing."

"Boy, (in motor car): "This controls the brake. It is to be put on quickly in emergency."

Girl: "Oh, I see; something like a kimono."

nature · Saturday on the industrial conditions in America in the past and at the present. It has been conclusively proven that a man can and will work better when he has a real interest in his work and when a state of perfect understanding and sympathy exists between him and his employer. This is just as true in school work. The school teacher that possesses a personality that attracts his pupils and gains for him their confidence, will cure better work from them. In short, if these principles have been recognized and applied by industrial leaders, why can they not be recognized and applied by educational leaders? They should all be worked out on a scientific experimental basis and no one is better fitted to do this than the teacher of today and the prospective teacher of tomorrow.

The spring term has begun and this fact should remind us that the summer term is not far away. Students, let’s boost for our school, and, working together with the faculty, endeavor to give the summer Normal of 1917, a wider reputation and a larger attendance than any of our previous Summer Normals. A good word about the school in your letter to friends at home will have its effect. Try it.

By way of congratulations to those who were unfortunate enough to fail in the examinations of the last week or so, we will offer the following scriptural testimony to prove that flunking is not one of the seven deadly sins: “Let no man pass.” (Lev. 28:14). “Thou shalt not pass.” (Neh. 14:23). “He that passeth shall be cut off.” (Sol. 11:18). “Pass not.” (Judges 24:19). “No man passed.” (Jer. 2:6). Still Browning’s “Pippa Passes.”

Madam Tarbell in her lecture Saturday evening spoke on the industrial conditions in America in the past and at the present. It had occurred to us that many of the conditions she spoke of and many of the examples she cited may be made to apply as aptly to schools and scholars as to factories and factory employees. If a factory employee is made more efficient by being placed in better working conditions, is it not reasonable to believe that a student’s efficiency in learning can be increased by putting him under the conditions and in the surroundings most conducive to study? Proper lighting, proper heating, and proper ventilation are surely as important factors in the school room as they are in the factory, and all health conditions will affect a student’s ability and desire to study just as surely as they will affect the ability and desire of a man to work.

Another very strong phase of the industrial situation that can be easily and effectively paralleled with our school problem is found in the cooperation of the employees and the employer. It has been conclusively proven that a man can and will work better when he has a real interest in his work and when a state of perfect understanding and sympathy exists between him and his employer. This is just as true in school work. The school teacher that possesses a personality that attracts his pupils and gains for him their confidence, will cure better work from them. In short, if these principles have been recognized and applied by industrial leaders, why can they not be recognized and applied by educational leaders? They should all be worked out on a scientific experimental basis and no one is better fitted to do this than the teacher of today and the prospective teacher of tomorrow.

Said Prof. Burkholder to the waiter bold,
"See here, waiter, my cocoa's cold!"
He scornfully answered, "I can't help that;
If the blame thing's chilly, put on your hat!"

Lives there a Fish with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said:—
I wish I were a Sophomore.
Whose heart has never within him burned
As toward the shore his face he turned,
And gazed upon the Golden Strand.
The Golden Strand! O, little Fish!
The cherished goal o' your fondest wish:
The haven of the Sophomore:
O Fish! If you a Soph. would be
Go shed your scales and leave the sea
And have your being on the Strand.
If you would a noble being be,
Just let your highest ideal be—
A Sophomore! A Sophomore!

Girls Do Not Read This.
If the blame thing's chilly, put on your hat.

Freshmen Win Easy Victory
Over the Sophomores

On the Normal athletic field Tuesday afternoon the Freshmen defeated the Sophomore base ball team by the score of 12 to 0. On the part of the Freshmen the game was characterized by hard hitting and excellent base running, while on the part of the Sophomores by grouchous at the umpire and striking out. Shans pitched a sensational game for the Freshmen the game was char.

The Freshmen got 11 hits to the Sophomores 1. In short, the Fish out-classed the Sophomores in every feature of the game, and especially in head work. But we will get them next time.

A Few Words From
The Chautauquans

The Chautauqua Literary Society met in regular session last Monday and rendered a very interesting program. The "pep" of the society is at high tide, and as long as we grow in numbers and spirit we will forward the cause of literary in old S. W. T. N. It will not be long before our boys together with the Harris-Blair boys, will meet the debating teams of Denton and Canyon, and we, as true Chautauquans must get behind them with all the support that we can give.

We must have a share in the work and then rejoice with our victorious boys over a work well done.

Work Begun on Bathing Resort

Work began this week on the Normal bathing resort. The river is being cleared of vegetation and deepened and the result of this work will be a first class pool for bathing purposes. The bath house is also under construction. This building will be 30 feet by 20 feet and will be built of concrete piles in order to place it above any high water. The cost of the building alone will be over $600.

Around The Hill

Everyone was glad to see "Blaze" Chapman back in school Tuesday morning after an absence of about two weeks. Clyde Applewhite is in school again after a term of mumps.

Carrol Harris has returned from Lytton Springs, where he has been for the last two weeks at the bedside of a sick brother.

Mr. M. H. Muennich is back in school again after having been absent for some time. Miss Jaunita Henderson, Miss Louise Sanders, and Miss Ruth Roquemore have been out for the past few days with the measles.

Raymond and Rex Weir are out of school with the measles.

Misses Ethel and Albertine Savage spent the week end with friends and relatives at Florence.
