I think it's like Researchgate and Academia.edu - it's a third-party institutional repository. I am guessing one of the authors posted it. We would have to get permissions to post to our IR.

What is SemanticScholar? <https://www.semanticscholar.org/paper/Prisoner-Reentry-and-Recidivism-According-to-the-A-Bowman-Travis/105c8bbc2dc23a5f67842b790f0e5a38c3bf2176>

I also can't figure out exactly what is Behavior Analyst Today; the issn doesn't match in periodical list but it might have had a title change?

I don't see that I responded, but I thought I did - so ignore if a duplicate.

This should be good - ERIC are usually owned by the author or are federal govt docs. If there's fulltext you should be able to upload it.

I have a question...Dr. Chahin is the Dean of the College of Applied Arts. So what Community do I choose for him?

Also, the publication is available as an ERIC Document. Are those ok for repositories? Leadership, Diversity and the Campus Community.
